Silicone shindig

By SUSAN JAMISON

Cops are searching for a woman they say held a "silicone party" in a lady's living room last spring — and gave six flat-chested gals injections to make their breasts bigger!

The woman, Sookie Ricketta, 42, was practicing medicine without a license, according to police using the dangerous procedure. One of her patients became deathly ill, cops say.

"A woman got a serious infection and almost died from it," said Lt. Richard Belling of the Colorado Springs Police Department. "The injections have been banned in the United States since the 1970s."

Apparently Mrs. Ricketta travels around the country doing this.

"A local peace maker contacts with women who want the procedure and sets up the party and then calls in the woman to give the injections," he said.

Lt. Belling said six women said Oncostron at Culture each is getting at a private home for the injections last May. At the "supernatural-type" going-on-they were given a shot of Oncostron, an inferior grade silicone directly into their breasts to make their bigger.

Similar shots were used in the U.S. decades ago, but doctors found the silicone spread clumping up after injection, moving to other parts of the body and sometimes causing horrifying infections. Doctors now never restored bags of silicone under the skin for the same effect.

"The woman who became infected had already had part of one breast through a partial mastectomy," said Lt. Belling. "We heard about it when her husband called police."

"She had gotten a serious infection seven decades ago and almost died and she was so afraid she wanted to fix herself. The woman wanted to look better and now she has permanent injuries."

"We just want to warn people so it doesn't happen to any one else."

WAS THAT A CRAMPED AND TENSE OR JUST A WASHOUT?

Blundertaker!

You'd think undertaker Tor Iversen could lay off the booze long enough to give a 72-year-old man a proper burial — but you'd be wrong.

Iversen and his assistant were on a mission! They nearly drowned the old man in coffin loading! It left the booze for the trip to the cemetery.

"He's been on his way over the road. He was working and waving to friends as he passed by having a good old time," said Sjurh Saxenon, daughter of the dear-departed.

He looked like he was carrying a load of copes instead of his father.

Iversen and his assistant passed out just as the hearse pulled into the cemetery southwest of Oslo, Norway.

"We had to unload the coffin, and carry it to the grave site," said Sjurh's brother, Torgeir. "He was mortal of grief we had to conduct the service, even to the point of lowering the coffin into the grave."

The grief-stricken family called police after the ceremony carried Iversen and his assistant were charged with public drunkenness.

The business man to 200 a damage suit against Iversen. "We scraped together 36,000 to give my father a proper burial and the undertaker turned it into a circus," said Sjurh.

Just for kicks

Building worker Mary Ann Wrenn loves her feet from on down with sports activities. The little lass especially enjoys kick boxing, martial arts and motorcycle riding.

A washout

A rocky college kid tried to run a cup out of a toilet by saying he was going 100 m.p.h. along a highway to five-day his first semester out.

"I've been known to let motorists off if they can give me an outrageous or funny reason for speeding, but I just didn't like this guy's logic," said Officer Nick Fable.

The young student was forced to park his convertible and accompany officer Fable to the police station in Naperville. He was charged with speeding and evading arrest.

Young mom's shocking confession:

Lied about being raped

By SUSAN JENNISON
Staff writer

"I lied — I wasn't raped."

That's the shocking confession of young mom Elizabeth Richardson who sent a man she didn't know to jail and destroyed his life by falsely accusing him of sexual assault.

When she admits her terrifying lie ruined her life as well, hoping to break up her marriage and even putting her husband at risk when he threatened to kill the man who had raped her.

"That I did was very, very wrong," said Elizabeth, 24, a divorcee, who lives in Omaha, Neb. "I falsely accused Gary Nitch at several meetings. In fact, I have never had his personal contact with Mr. Nitch."

Elizabeth Gary lost his job and his last year terminated at school — a grade I just have his

In a frank interview, the mother of three young children revealed that she had made up her rape lie to get her husband's attention. The father, trucker's wife said she lived of her husband's long absences and knew that he had had several affairs while on the road.

"I just wanted him to be home," the housewife said. "I thought I could get him to be a regular husband. If he was home he would have no need to have affairs."

partner Gary Nitch, a 40-year-old family man who had never visited her home briefly at her home with a job Nitch was arrested and spent three days in jail before Elizabeth told him she didn't want to pursue the case because it was too stressful for her.

Nitch was released, but he lost his job over the incident and his family was harassed. Elizabeth's husband tried to get down, Nitch lost the plan went away when the trigger malfunctioned, Elizabeth said.

"I didn't want my husband to go to jail," she recalled. "So I told him the truth. After that he said I had had problems. He tried for divorce and told me I had had about the rape."

"I went to police afterwards and turned myself in. I probably would have told up my own story. I had suffered for two years. I couldn't sleep outside. I saw people it was really bad."

Elizabeth was charged with perjury. This confession she was convicted and sentenced to two years in prison and 180 days in jail and ordered to pay $500,000 per day and still in custody before she finally got out.

"I don't think anything I'd ever do will be enough. I just wanted everyone to know I'm sorry," Elizabeth said.

But Nitch, who now has a new job at a local hardware store, wasn't impressed with Elizabeth's remorse.

"You can't change wrong in right," he said.

Gal dumps dream hubby — for being too perfect!

Metel Schmidt thought she'd found the perfect man when she married Hans, but after two years she's divorcing her "dream husband" because he does the cooking, the cleaning and the shopping — and he's driving her nuts!

"Hans really is the perfect husband," Metel told the judge in the couple's divorce case in Lashburn, East Germany.

Hans does all of the housework and the baking. He does the shopping and the dishes. He does the housecleaning and even washes the windows.

The last straw came when Hans took over the job of taking care of our baby. I really couldn't allow that kind of thing to go on."

Metel told the judge that when she met and married Hans, a 26-year-old welder's apprentice, she thought he was Mr. Wonderful.

"From the very start Hans worked on me hand and foot. I thought that I had married the world's most perfect husband."

Metel said she believed Hans would stop performing all of the household duties after they had been married for a few months, but her husband just never let up.

"After a while it drove me mad," Hans' 23, testified.

"What was left for me to do? I became so depressed that I begged Hans to leave his dirty clothes in a heap on the floor so I could kick them up."

"But he refused," said Metel. Hans testified that he did the household chores because he was better at them than his wife was.

"She's not only ungrateful, she's jealous," he told the judge.

"I admit that I did all of the cooking but only because I'm a much better cook than she ever will be."

"And if I didn't do the cleaning and the shopping and didn't take care of our little baby girl, it wouldn't have gotten done."

Husky Hans told Judge Karl Schmidt that he became a co-median's girlfriend because his mother died when he was 5.

"I never got out to become a perfect husband," Hans testified. "That isn't my goal in life. But when my mother died the job of taking care of the house and the family fell to me because I was the oldest child."

'He waited on me hand and foot — it drove me crazy!'

Hans told the judge it was true that he wanted Metel to quit her factory job when they got married, but he had accepted her to run the household.

"The first meal she cooked for us when we returned from our honeymoon was a disaster," Hans said. "I couldn't believe she called it food!"

"We both laughed at that, but after she ruined the second dinner and the third and the fourth, I started doing the cooking."

Judge Schmidt granted the couple's divorce and awarded custody of the baby to Hans.

"You may not be the perfect husband," the judge told Hans.

"But I think you'll make a fine mother."

Mummy town

A whole town of Ancient Egyptians has been discovered in an Alaska cave.

More than 10 of the wrapped bodies have been found. U.S. Fish and Wildlife officials were searching for tea done on an uncharted Alaskan island when they made the startling discovery.

Authorities say the ride at the Mississippi State Fair malfunctioned, causing riders to suffer dizziness and vomiting. Some were even taken to a hospital in St. Paul.

"We were not in any danger, but they got upset for a long time," said Jerry Himmelfarb, a spokesman for the fair. "What we wound up with was a lot of sick people."

No more starvation diets for me!

I lost 75 pounds with the help of EASY GLIDER™

What you see above is an illustration of actual footage you've seen of Keith on TV showing his dramatic 75 pound weight loss. How did he do it? Simple! "I lowered my caloric intake by reducing fat and sugar and glided away the pounds on my Easy Glider while watching football!"

Keith Allen*

You've saved yourself on a 1000 calorie a day diet, suffered brutal hunger pangs... and you've lost the will to go through it all for ten more days.

Well, there's up there there's a better way to take off that extra weight. And all it takes is just a little determination... and Easy Glider!

The secret is Easy Glider—the exercise that can help you lose 10...20...even 75 pounds—while watching TV!

You can lose weight on your own schedule, even while listening to the stereo or watching TV! Just make up your mind to lower your caloric intake by eating lower fat and sugar. And then stay on the glider pedal on the tension control for desired resistance, and you're off on the road to fitness and a slim, toned body.

After that time...reciprocal...even jogging!

An aerobic workout on Easy Glider is one of the most efficient ways to burn up calories and achieve total fitness. It simulates cross-country skiing, which some experts tell is the world's #1 fitness exercise. Easy Glider's constant motion maintains your aerobic heart rate, makes reciprocal a must and easy exercise.

Exercise takes focus on the lower body while Easy Glider works all the major muscle groups including arms, legs, shoulders, buttocks and even your stomach. It's smooth, fluid, gliding action makes it for less wear on the body than jogging. This one simple exercise program for the heart, tones the muscles, burns calories and improves stamina.

Easy Glider gives YOU the workout...not your mouth!

Best of all, you can lose weight without paying the high price! Easy Glider is priced as an amazing $59.85—a real bargain when you consider that after its simulation cost as much as $360. How can we do it? Quite simply, Easy Glider is a model of efficiency. Thousands of hours went into its design and engineering. The crowded assembly lines will take years of time. This creates a superior product at a fraction of the price!

By it for 60 days at no risk—and experience the weight loss for yourself!

Remember, Keith Allen lost an amazing 75 pounds by watching what he ate and gliding away the pounds on his Easy Glider. Now it's your turn!

The risk is taking when you order. As a credit card customer, your credit card will be billed in 3 easy payments of just $19.95 each. We won't bill your bank payment until you've used Easy Glider for 60 days. If you don't lose weight and fitness benefits, you can return it within 60 days for a full refund. (minus shipping and handling—no questions asked.) Plus, Easy Glider is covered by a 1 year limited warranty on parts.

So why starve yourself one day longer? Lose 25...50...75 pounds the effective and consistent way—right on your own schedule—when you order Easy Glider Today!

NEW BRATS ON THE BLOCK

The New Kids on the Block are rapidly becoming the New Skids on the Block as their violent behavior from coast-to-coast is turning fans and the media against them.

"I'm not sure I'm liking them anymore because they don't act like they used to," said 10-year-old fan Kristin Bothwell.

The Boston Globe took the Kids to task for being "carefully marketed as clean-cut, churchgoing inner-city youths," while they are actually "success-spoiled youths who badly need disciplining."

In the space of a month some of the Kids have had fistfights in Salt Lake City, Atlanta and Boston. The situation is so bad the band's lawyer had to fly to the West Coast to read them the riot act. "Some program is going to be established to change things around so to how they conduct themselves," said New Kids mouthpiece Len Lewis. "We're going to sit down with parents, kids, management, the whole team."

Sounds like a good idea, but it just might be too late.

A weighty issue for Elvis fans

The "Elvis on Other Planets Weight Chart" is showing up to singles bars all over the country — but it ain't amusing the folks at Graceland. "It's really kind of tasteless," says spokesguy Todd Morgan. "We have a lot more important things to worry about than how much Elvis would weigh on other planets."

The King weighed a whopping 252 pounds on the day he kicked the bucket. On the sun, he would have tipped the scales at a staggering 7,140 pounds!

According to the chart, Elvis' Earth weight equals about 13 pounds on Pluto, 57 pounds on Mercury and Mars, 232 pounds on Venus, 575 on Saturn, 242 on Uranus and 370 on Neptune. The weights vary in relation to the planet's surface gravity relative to Earth's.

line and as she could talk to her beloved dog. "Wait for me, I'm coming," she told her sitting pet.

"He sat me at the door, wagging his tail, and two days later, he had another stroke. I knew he'd waited for me. And then I wouldn't let go of him. He became paralyzed. I had to calisthenic him: I'd lean against a dog." While Pete lay dying, Winger called friends to arrange a cremation.

UFOs HERE NOW ON SPECIAL MISSION

BIBLICAL PROPHETS OF OLD WARNED BY SPACE VISITORS OF COMING EARTH CHANGES AND PRESENT WORLD SPIRITUAL CRISIS, says researcher

If you have suspected that today's UFOs might be related to the events of End Time or the Last Days as described in Scripture, you will find your suspicions confirmed by a bold new book that takes a careful new look at the Old and New Testaments. EXTRATERRESTRIALS IN BIBLICAL PROPHECY AND THE NEW AGE GREAT EXPERIMENT, by Prof. G. Cope Schellhorn, offers the reader in a simple straightforward style an in-depth down-to-earth look at the new evidence which suggests that our Scriptures have even more to say to us than we previously believed. Now open to us is a new dimension of meaning that is as startling as it is totally reassuring.

In such chapters as "Walking with God," "Ezekiel's Spaceship Odyssey," "Conversations with Commanders Along the Tigris," "The Flying Saucer," "Saint John Reveals Spaceship," "The Return of the Son of Man Out of the Clouds," and many more, Professor Schellhorn guides the reader in exploring the record of extraterrestrial involvement in the scriptures, genealogy and prophecy in particular. Every man and woman on earth needs to read this new, inspiring work in these troubled times.

— but he doesn't show up on film!

A short, fat cigar-smoking stranger posed in all the pictures taken at a couple's wedding, but when the film was developed — he wasn't in any of the photos.

"He definitely was a ghost. There's no other explanation," said stunned groom Armando Serrano. "If he was human, how could he disappear from the negative?"

"When we got the photo, we couldn't find him on any of them," he said. "We even exposed the negative, but there was no sign of him. Just space where he was standing."

Armando and Pamela were married at St. Charles Church in Berkeley, England. Neither they nor other wedding guests will ever forget the rosy-cheeked, photobombed stranger.

"We didn't know who he was," said Pamela's mother, Evelyn Evelyn. "We thought he was from the groom's side of the family or they thought he was from our side."

The mysterious, middle-aged stranger looked like a widower Winston Churchill and smoked a very large and expensive-looking cigar.

"He was beautifully dressed in a gray suit and white shirt with a navy blue frilly bow tie and a navy blue bow tie," said Armando.

The smiling, good-natured groom sat in all the family group pictures.

"In some of the pictures he was standing between me and my daughter and yet there is no sign of him in the photo — just space," said the bride's mother, Douglas Robertson, a policeman for 26 years.

Photographer Ian Trevelyan remembers the strange because of his fiancée's dream.

He was always smiling and seemed to be at all the pictures.

"Actually, I had to politely ask him to stand aside when I wanted to shoot the bride and groom together or the marrieds alone."

In every picture the stranger was in, the background seems out perfectly — as if there was no one there in the first place.

By RICK TRACY

said the shocked photographer. "I've been a professional photographer for 15 years and I've taken thousands of wedding pictures. Nothing like this has ever happened before."

"I've never believed in ghosts, but this wedding night is better out of me," he said. "Wedding photo right, but odd space between bride and groom's mother where the mystery guest stood. Follow a similar gap between the groom and another guest was where the mystery man stood."

Lotteries are scams for lazy folks!

I'm madder than a surgeon with a leak in his yacht over all these states ripping folks off with stupid lottery scams.

My lazy brother-in-law who lives in Florida called me several weeks ago to see if I wanted to buy some tickets for that $100 million lottery racket they were running down there.

Avoid not only that, but random train crashes too. Collect-

I slammed the phone down so hard I'd bet he couldn't hear for a week! Let's face it, Lotteries are mostly for fools like him who don't want to work for a living. How would you like to tell your next-door neighbor that the only way you got a big house, fancy car and swimming pool was because your neighbors were sucked up at Pig-Poxy? Half of it someone else got a million bucks. I'd tear the sucker up in a hundred little pieces, by jeez!

Hey, don't you think I'd like to go to Texas with a black check and refuel my car? Damn, right. And I'd love to have an 18-hole miniature golf course in my backyard, too.

But not if I have to humiliate myself by having my picture taken beside some winning lottery check like they do to the winners. I've never won anything in my life and I don't intend to start now. So if my plucked brother-in-law wants to waste money playing a lottery, great.

I make my money the old-fashioned way — I earn it!

ED ANGER'S LOTTERY POLL

Q YES, I agree with Ed that lotteries are a ripoff and only lazy people play them.

Q NO. People have every right to play the stupid lottery and be as lazy as they want.

Psychic warns woman:

(A woman who was told she would die in 10 minutes later she saw a man jump 200 feet to his death.)

You'll watch someone die!

By JACK ALEXANDER

Staff writer

"You are going to see a suicide," a psychic told shocked Susan Schofield — and 10 minutes later she saw a man jump 200 feet to his death.

"There is a man and there is a car involved," clairvoyant Roy Rama had told her. And he was right. At 8:30 a.m. on Tuesday, Rama drove across a bridge in Chad Wells, England, after visiting Rama, they saw a car stop on the spot.

"The headlights played on an it took got out and I saw him climb over the rail," she said. "I checked, but I guess he jumped." Then, as we went past, I saw him disappear over the edge.

Seven reported it to police when they got home. A half hour later, cops came back and said they found the body of William Randall, 36. Rama said before he had kept Susan longer than normal because something seemed to tell him to. "I felt it was the worst time but the work was in his car contemplating suicide," he said.

Rama feels that Susan will be upset for a time, but she will get over it. Susan isn't sure she wants to go back to Rama for another reading.

And 10 minutes later — she did!

Expert tells how to buy a used car

Are you in the market for a good used car? Do you know what to look for so you won't wind up buying a worn-out basket of bolts?

In his book Cheap Wheels, car expert Dan Kinnell gives some advice on how you can tell if a used car is worth a second look. Here are a few of his pointers:

• The body/jar should show little rust — or more, at least. If the odometer shows 30,000 miles, the car should look like it was used that long.

• The engine should be clean — but not too clean. Check the hood and look for oil stains or other signs of fluid leaks.

• The oil should be clean and full. Dirty oil is an all-around fix warning sign. Freely or gray oil may indicate a leak in the cooling system.

• The coolant should be clean. Yellowish-green or bright fluorescent orange are good colors. Waddy brown indicates rust in the system, which could require a complete flush... or a expensive repair.

• The carbody should be clean-free. Rusty the side filler panel. The filler and centerpiece should be relatively clean and free of corrosion or dirt.

• Measure the head on all four the corners. It could indicate a truck-like suspension problem.

• Check the shocks. Push down hard on all four corners. The car should spring quickly without bouncing. Take notes while looking at a used car. Then, when you have a theory, ask the seller and have a trained mechanic take a look at it. Your notes will be a big help to him or her.

PSYCHIC Roy Rama told he kept his client longer than usual because "something seemed to tell me to."

Mothers' club snubs Mr. Mom

By SUSAN JAMISON

Miffed "Mr. Mom" Joel Chalken wanted to join his neighborhood mothers' group, but they turned him down — and now he's suing them for sex discrimination.

The full-time househusband and father says it isn't fair that he should be excluded from the Mothers' support group just because he's a dad.

He has brought a complaint before the New York State Division of Human Rights claiming his civil rights have been violated.

"They told me it was inappropriate for a man to join the group because some of the topics they discuss are gender-based," Chalken 33, told The News.

"They thought women in the group wouldn't be comfortable with a man there."

"But I think it's illegal for them to exclude me. My soul is hurt there. They know that gives to rights. They can't say to Chalken."

Chalken, whose wife works as a lawyer, would like to lead in their Syossetville area Benjamin, says as a full-time domestic engineer he needs contact with other folks who stay home with the kids.

And Chalken believes he'd have a lot to offer to the

"I think we belong in the group," would change the group, for the better," says Chalken, a college professor who quit his $37,500 a year job to raise his son.

"We would get together that might lead to better husband-wife cooperation," he says, "and we could show that men can be as cooperative and compassionate as women — even on subjects like breast feeding."

So outraged is Chalken that his place in the mother-led party that he has taken the dispute to higher authorities. Last month the

New York State Division of Human Rights decided there was reason to believe that Chalken had been discriminated against, and now the department and some in go to court to win his point.

"It gets me angry they don't allow men to lead. I am going to take this all the way through the courts if I have to."

NEW! Birth control gizmo is a 5-year wonder

A Finnish company has introduced a new kind of IUD that prevents pregnancy for up to five years.

The sterilization coil called Laveron-5, contains a synthetic hormone that blocks fertilization. It is inserted into a woman's body for five years, then replaced.

Periodically examine quickly once the coil is removed, according to a spokeswoman for Faltin's Laveron Co.

Cat called for jury duty

A judge almost cited a middle-aged man for contempt of court when he showed up for jury duty with his pet cat — and it was the kitty who'd been called as a juror.

"Sweet, your honor, the court sent my cat an official letter ordering him to report today for jury duty," said Rod Kimo, as he laughed the judge the letter.

Because of an as yet unspecified snafu, Kimo's cat, Mickey Finn, had been subconsciously ordered to appear for jury duty in Malmo, Sweden.

TEN guests at the wedding of Steve and Benita Gable were injured when a pickup plowed into the reception hall.

PARTY CRASHER!

Newlyweds Steve and Benita Gable didn't get a chance to cut their wedding cake — It got smashed to bite-sized bits when a runaway pickup truck plowed into their reception hall!

"I saw people go flying all over the place," declared Charles McCarthy III, who was a passenger in the truck when it ran amok in Imperial, Pa.

The truck was driven by cousin-of-the-bride Jay Kaestli, who had left the reception with McCarthy to get some cigarettes.

The truck belonged to another guest at the reception and Kaestli was just about to leave when he saw the truck heading out.

Police Department said, "He decided to back out and turn through the wall of the reception hall."

Runaway truck smashes into wedding reception!

Witnesses said the pickup truck, in all 10 people including two children, smashed through the wall of the reception hall, causing injuries.

DIRTY DOC MADE PORNO FILMS OF PATIENTS, SAY COPS

A small town doctor who was looked on as a pillar of the community is now accused of committing the most disgusting crimes imaginable — making porno films of innocent schoolgirl patients!

Dr. Joseph Cichow, a 36-year-old father of three, who for nine years was a prominent physician in Forest, Ill., was indicted on 30 counts of sexually assaulting and videotaping 12 girls in his office. He is charged with 15 counts of aggravated criminal sexual assault, 10 counts of criminal sexual assault, 14 counts of child pornography, 10 counts of aggravated criminal sexual abuse and one count of maintaining a public nuisance. He is free on a $1 million bond.

Covered as only a handful of the charges could be proved in to prison for the rest of his life. Cops began investigating Dr. Cichow six last year, after a mother questioned the doctor for a urinary infection. The mother said Dr. Cichow told her he didn't see Kates because of medical risks and advised that she get her face in any of them. The mother said that during the course of the treatment, Dr. Cichow videotaped the young girl's legs and breasts with a camera. The mother's report states Dr. Cichow later told the girl "the pictures he took turned out really good and that she didn't seem to worry because he didn't get her pretty face in any of them." After an eight-month investigation, one girl out of Dr. Cichow's co-stars — one who knew of his disgusting Jekyll-and-Hyde activities — is arranging a meeting between the doctor and a man interested in buying kiddie porn. Dr. Cichow was arrested and now stands two videotapes. I was accused, and's neighbor "My God! He's a doctor!" — SYDIE BOWMAN

You Can SING Great -- In Just 7 Days

You can sing better than you ever imagined possible with a NEW and EASY singing improvement program available through Verity Music.

"You can learn to do amazing things with your voice in just seven days and impress others as you develop your natural talents; even if you don't think you are talented!" said Verity producer John Williams. "Virtually anyone can improve his or her voice with the program, no matter how good or how bad they think they may sound."

"The cassette tape program, How to Sing Great at Any Age, is unique. There is nothing else available today that teaches so much in such a comprehensive package!

If you are a good singer or even if you feel you can not carry a line, you can learn how to be a great singer in the privacy of your home or car. You can learn how to give your voice new life!

Many men, women and children, of all ages, are learning to project song harmony parts, hit high falsetto notes and sing in any style and are gaining confidence, style and vocal flexibility. Williams said, "You can remember too well to start improving your voice."

If you like to sing Gospel and Religious, Rock, Country and Western, Pop, Rhythm and Blues, Gospel and Raggae, Rap or Show Tunes this Copyrighted program can be invaluable!

With this cassette tapebook program—created by top voice teachers and professional entertainment—you can:

- Strengthen your voice dramatically
- Build up weak vocal muscles
- Gain the confidence you need to sing in front of others
- Refresh your vocal range (singer's whisper to belted)
- Sing in perfect key with the music
- Perform many difficult song patterns
- Sing with proper breath control
- Create unique vibrato
- Vocal creativity
- Enhance vocal tones

By L.A. PETERSON

- Harmonize easily with other voices
- Sing 100-rate Polosello
- "Scat" (improvises you and add to music)
- Overcome stage fright
- Do tricks with voice
- Make a mediocre song sound great
- Create your own style
- Make money with voice
- Protect songs and get paid for writing a them

This program is designed to be simple enough for a beginner of any age but advanced enough for professional singers to sharpen their skills.

The program also includes special sections on the earliest techniques to use to develop your new style; sign to enhance breath control; how to teach a child to sing how to keep your listeners to the palm of your hand, and quick tips to immediately improve your voice to match what you like to sing.

If you sing in church or in the shower, if you sing along with the radio or in the car, if you sing just for your own enjoyment or if you are a professional, this program gives you the information you need to maximize your vocal potential," said Williams.

This complete vocal improvement package contains most everything you would ever need to know about singing.

This program could save you hundreds of dollars over the cost of private vocal lessons. Williams concluded, "Verity Music is meeting your need for excellent but affordable instruction with this impressive cassette tapebook program."

Since the program is not yet available in stores to order this complete vocal package, Write To Sing Great, send only $14.95 plus $3.00 shipping and handling. Verity Music, Dept W-4 Box 967, Taylor, MI 48180.

You will be delighted, or Verity will refund it or you return the program any time within a year.

I'm a hot tomato but he's a couch potato

Dear Dotti: I've been living with my boyfriend for two years now and I'm convinced that people who've been married 50 years have more action in the bedroom than we do.

When I ask my guy why he's not interested in sex he just shrugs. He's only 30 years old, so such a mouth-music! — Wondering in Georgia

Dear Wondering: No, it's not normal. The fact is, your boyfriend's a dud!

My new neighbor is Elvis himself!

Dear Dotti: I can't believe it. I recently moved into a small town and noticed that my next-door neighbor was always singing. I think he's a real Elvis. He came over to my house to borrow a cassette tape and it was Elvis in the flesh! Should I tell someone or keep my mouth shut? — Confused in Carle Rock

Dear Confused: If you live next door to The King, I'd tell me his name. And if you want to let anybody about your little fan-boy tell a whiff!

The radio message received by Dr. Victor Kutskov is not without precedent — both Soviet and U.S. scientists picked up a similar message from a satellite on March 31.

As reported in the September 18 edition of The NEWS, the coded cry for help is believed to have come from a starling that was crippled on the outer fringes of the Milky Way galaxy 25,000 years ago.

Cops bust up plot to kill

Police have charged two men with plotting to murder a 61-year-old neighbor — because they thought she was a witch!

Authorities in Beulah, N. Dakota, arrested Dean Lindeberger and Jace Keppen on the lawn of Karlos Singer after receiving a tip that the two men were armed and planned to kill the harmless olderster.

"Stories were going around that she was practicing sorcery, setting traps and dogs, and doing other odd-type things," said Marvin

County State's Attorney Alan Dugan. "It appears that the two men were in a big one night and after having a few beers decided to go out there and eliminate the problem."

Drunk nails himself to park bench

By JOE BERGER

Plastered plumber Philip
Pyne decided to sleep it off on a park bench, but he was afraid he'd fall off — so pickled Phil nailed himself to the bench!

Shocked officers found him, sprawled on the wooden bench with three six-inch nails through each of his thighs.

"I'd been drinking, but he was so drunk he apparently didn't feel a bit of pain," said first-bergated patrolman Peter Keyes.

Investigators said a 40-year-old
Phil, 5'10, had been boozing it up with pals in a nearby pub when he decided to tumble in. But on the way, the dehydrated reveler spotted the bench and stopped for a snooze.

so he wouldn't roll off while he was snooping and got hurt," Patrolman
Keyes told reporters in Weymouth, England.

"When we got there he pinned up the claw hammer and was going to yank the nails out himself. We stopped him, figuring he'd cause enough damage to his legs already."

Instead, fireman yanked the bench from the pavement and placed it in an ambulance with the drunk

Hard-luck 4-year-old's prayer is answered!

God brought my dog back

By DICK DONOVAN

CHICAGO

"Please, Jesus, tell my uncle Eric to make those bad guys bring my dog back to me."

That was the heart-tugging bedtime prayer from Zachary Smith, a hard-luck 4-year-old who lost his home, his only toy, his uncle and his dog — but never lost hope.

"After his dog Spike was stolen, we all thought he would never see him again," Jesus said from her house in Dan Modrow, Iowa. "We were prepared to tell him that Spike was with someone who must have needed him more."

But Zachary never gave up, thinking that he'd get Spike back. He never lost faith and now they're back together again.

All that faith was a lot more than anyone had a right to expect from a youngster who had already endured so much heartbreak.

In January 1989, when Zachary was 2, the family home and just about everything they owned was destroyed by fire. The boy managed to salvage one toy, a truck, but that was stolen four months later.

A couple of months later, the boy's mom and dad split, and Zachary began to rely on his young uncle Eric to fill the role of father figure in his life. "I've always called Zachary 'my little buddy,'" Grandma Joann said.

Then the hard-luck kid was slain another crushing blow last March when his beloved uncle was killed in a high way accident.

"That really threw Zachary for a loop," his grandma said. "He went to the funeral home with us and gave Spike a goodbye hug. We were trying to teach him to cope with death."

Just before the funeral Zachary was given a 4-week-old Springer spaniel puppy that had been born on Eric's 22nd birthday.

In the weeks that followed, boy and dog became inseparable.

What disease?

Alzheimer's disease may not be a disease at all, an expert says, but it's a mental part of aging.

Duke University researchers Allen Rosen think the condition — which results in forgetfulness and mental regression — may come about when a specific gene works only in older people.

home!

He lost his home, his toy, his uncle and his dog — but he never lost hope

But a few weeks ago, something took Spike from his outside exile. The fate of his dog, Mr. the boy like a son of his.

Spike was gone for only a few days when, like a miracle, a neighbor called to say he had found Spike sitting outside his house. Somehow the little puppy had managed to escape his captors.

And so Zachary and Spike were back together again. His grandma and mom help a truck it would happen, but Zachary never lost any doubts.

He knew Jesus and uncle Eric would find him down

THAT NIGHT, Y'S together again saw that Spike's back. Zachary, his grandma, left, and soon welcomed Spike back.

EVERYTHING'S O.K. now for little Zachary now that his dog is back. Spike gives his little master a kiss.

Ostrich kills pinhead poacher

A pre-bred pinhead was killed by a named ostrich when he tried to swipe one of the great bird's eggs.

Gerald Meyer had traveled from Fribourg in Cameroon for some adventure but his thrill-seeking days ended when the 200-pound ostrich bird chased him down and pecked him to death.

"I told him to leave the ostrich eggs alone," James Gomez, a local guide, said. "I would rather risk the loss of a tiger than anger an ostrich."

Meyer wiped the egg from the nest and was more than 200 yards from the ostrich when it started chasing him.

"He had no chance to outrun the bird," Gomez said.

After the ostrich caught Meyer it hoisted him on the ground and used its work with its powerful legs.

"It was a terrible sight, but Meyer was warned many times," Gomez said.

"A man who insists with an ostrich is a man who darts with death."

Granny cooks breakfast for crook

"I walked into my living room and there was this young man standing by the door with a gun in his hand. He said he wanted my money and jewelry. He said, 'This is the money.'

The spunky grandma said she brushed by the gunman and walked into her kitchen to cook breakfast.

Milda, who is barely 5-feet-tall, whistled around and looked at the young robber square in the face.

"Don't you dare tell me what to do in my own house," she said. "And put that stupid gun down. You're not going to shoot anybody."

The young man pushed her against the oven and pressed the gun to her head. "You've got 15 seconds to do what I say or you're dead," he threatened.

"Look, sorry," said the hairy sister. "I'm 84 years old. My husband is dead. I've got arthritis and I've lived a full life. Dying ain't something I worry about."

"So why don't you sit down in that chair and relax or get out of my house."

The young banfel slumped down in a kitchen chair, totally frustrated. "How do you like your eggs?" asked Hilda.

The stricken old woman made her gas-tolling guest eat eggs, sausage and biscuits. And he drank almost a quart of milk.

Little girl's body found in car wreckage — after it was towed to the junkyard!

By JACK ALEXANDER
Cops didn't realize a little girl's body was still in the wreckage of her daddy's car until five hours after it was towed from its accident scene to a junkyard.

Veronica Coverdale, 18, had been riding in the back seat of her father's Toyota Corolla when it was hit by another car near Fairfax, Va.

Her parents, two sisters and brother were taken to a hospital and a wrecker towed the COPS didn't know the girl's body was in this wreckage.

described Toyota to a storage lot.

Later, when relatives of the injured family arrived at the lot, we counted only three children — and State Trooper James Brinkley, who then returned to the crash scene.

Thinking Veronica may have been thrown from the car, cops searched the area thoroughly but couldn't find her.

Police and rescue workers then went to the auto storage company and discovered Veronica's body completely covered by her. Veronica was asleep at the time of the accident.

"A little doll body was found near the body," said Trooper Brinkley.

An autopsy indicated the little girl died on impact. "I doubt if she even knew what hit her," said the trooper.

The dead girl's parents, 28-year-old Kenneth Coverdale, were listed as victims.

Paul, and sister Barbara, 15, were in critical and fair condition, respectively. Another sister, Darlene, 3, was treated and released.

PRIZE PANDA BARBECUED

By MICKEY McGuIRE

Correspondent

Farmer Leng Zhibang will slave away his life on a chain gang because he committed "the most unforgivable crime" when he killed and ate Man-Man — China's most prized giant panda!

The 10-year-old father of three at least 1800 wild tigers throughout a protected giant panda reserve known as the Wolong Reserve in the Chinese province of Sichuan.

The grade Man-Man — which means "treasure" — was snared in one of the bear traps and held prisoner until Leng found her.

The brutal killing outraged the Chinese people, then shocked and stunned because he and took the forbidden meat home to eat.

To the people of China, there can be no greater sin than to harm even a hole on these magnificent creatures. Wolong Reserve official Changue Wang said: "The giant pandas are the rarest creature on Earth and can only be found in China."

"What this horrendous deed did to me was beyond human if it is the most unforgivable crime.

China jails farmer & throws key away far eating rare bear!

Killing her was certainly bad enough. But then to eat her — my life dog meat is more than my mind can comprehend."

Man-Man was by far the most treasured of the half-dozen giant pandas that roam free in the vast Wolong Reserve. She had been fitted with a transponder that monitored her movements in the wild.

When Man-Man's capture shocked on November 10, almost a week, the researchers tracked it down.

They had hoped to find that she was eating with a male — then they saw upon the grisly remains of her slaughtered carcass. A trail of dried blood led them to Leng's forest hut.

"One beautiful panda has gone to live someone's stomach," said Leng's 10-year-old son.

"Another ray of light from the sun is gone from our forest."

"There is no punishment that is cruel enough for Leng Zhibang."

"He has brought disaster on his children. Leng will pay for his strange deed as the chain gang."

"And there he will finish his worthless life. No one can survive more than six months on the gang of the damned." The giant panda is protected under Chinese law because it is believed that there are only about 1,000 of them still surviving in the wild and only in China.

bery and possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony on Monday.

Police said Joyce walked into Geaux and Ben Jewellers — where she was assistant manager — armed with a .38-caliber pistol, with a silk stocking over her face and wearing a wig and baseball cap.

She locked the front door and was heading the workers into a back room when one of them recognized her.

Once she was recognized, Joyce acted like the robbery attempt was "a drill," according to police.

She might have gotten off the immediate loose cops said, if they hadn't been tipped off about more than $200,000 in jewelry she had ordered for the store without her boss' knowledge.

The tipster had overheard Joyce talking about the ordered jewelry at an afternoon social gathering. When the tipster later heard about the attempted robbery, she called cops.

More than $100,000 of the jewelry was found in a small box hidden in the store, said Sheriff Capt. Vandy Tergram. Another $100,000 in jewelry was found in Joyce's house, police said.

If the employees hadn't recognized her, he believes Joyce Compton would have locked store employees in a rear room and stolen the $200,000 worth of jewelry, said a cop.

World-famous author's seven-year study proves . . .

By BICK DONOVAN

The astrological sign that you were born under can tell you how long you can expect to live!

That staggering discovery was made by acclaimed author-astrologer Forrest Pickling during a painstaking seven-year study of the birth and death records of more than 60,000 people.

"I was stunned by my findings," said Pickling from his cliffside home in Laguna Beach, Calif.

"But there can be no disputing the facts — people born under some signs, on the average, live far longer than those born under other signs."

For example, I found that men born under the zodiac sign of Taurus and women born under the sign of Gemini live the longest, averaged 78 years, while men born under the sign of Cancer and women born under the sign of Taurus will be around 70 1/2 years.

According to Pickling's research, the life span leaders are closely followed by Capricorn women, who can expect to living for 80 years, while women born under the sign of Taurus will be around 79 1/2 years.

Next in line are Aries men, who should live for 79 years, and Aries females with an average life span of 78 years.

"At the very bottom are the Sagittarians — of both sexes," Pickling said. "And that's a probability because they take more chances in life."

"My study shows the Sagittarian female has an average life span of just 68 1/2 years, while the Sagittarian male lives only 62 years."

Pickling's study shows that Gemini and Virgo have the widest gap between the sexes with Gemini women and Virgo men living 11 1/2 years longer than their gender counterparts.

Pickling (an Aries) was assisted in his astonishing study by his wife, Gloria (a Virgo), and a team of 10 highly trained researchers and statisticians.

"We collected birth and death dates for more than 60,000 people and insured that our researchers obtain an equal number of birth dates from every sign of the zodiac," he explained.

"The team used a variety of sources for supplying us with dates — collecting them from library reference books, mortuaries and even graveyards," said Pickling.

"I was amazed to see a pattern clearly emerging after I'd examined only 8,000 birth and death dates."

"That is when I became really excited — seeing statistical differences show up in the data."

"I hadn't expected anything so dramatic."

"The pattern became even more stable as we approached 10,000 dates and after 20,000 dates the pattern became as solid as a rock."

"We continued to work beyond 60,000 dates to give clear support to an already established set of conclusions," said Pickling.

"Pickling who with his wife co-wrote the Living Well astrology books which became a best-selling series of the mid-60s, outlined how he arrived at the average astrological life spans."

"We determined the age at death for each person, and then we listed the age under the relevant zodiac sign, in either the male or the female category."

"Then we added up the ages in each category and divided the total by the number of persons we'd listed in the category."

"This gave us the average age at death for the specific category."

"Our computations were checked twice of times to ensure our accuracy."

John Ashley, editor of the prestigious Astrological Journal of Great Britain and Canada, hailed Pickling's incredible findings as "stunning in their accuracy."

"Now you can use the astrological life span chart specifically prepared for The NEWS to find out how you measure up to the statistical norm."

Gag! Dictionary makes fatal blunder!

Sales have been pulled on France's new French dictionary — because it says a deadly poisonous mushroom is safe to eat!

The publishing house Larousse had said 6,000 mushrooms to step around the 1961 edition of Petit Larousse en Cou- leurs. Its best-selling dictionary. The publishing house, founded in 1802, said it is the worst mistake the firm has ever made. It listed 600 poisonous mushrooms to go to bookstores and print in new pages that don't carry the warning.

A company spokesman said a photo of Amythia Phillips — the deadliest mushroom in all of France — was supposed to have a red dot indicating that it is poisonous. Instead, the photo carried a black dot, signifying that it is safe to eat. The same mistake was made for two other poisonous mushrooms.

NEW ROCK MUSIC DUO HAS ONE BODY — & 2 HEADS

By BEATRICE DEXTER

(Special coverage)

The hottest new rock duo in Eastern Europe is a two-headed carnival freak, a side-show sex symbol who has teenage girls shrieking and swooning at sell-out concerts!

Calling himself by the English name Double Vision, super-warrior Keeson Karl Ludolter attracts crowds of up to 25,000 in Czechoslovakia, Poland and Austria with his guitar-wielding, super-singing act. He's already earned over $1 million from records and concerts and is planning a world tour for early next year.

"I owe my success to my two heads," said Ludolter, 26. "He is the person from the audience; I am the person who never up."

I tell them one day I'm going to look into the audience, and this girl of my dreams and this show, with her to love a family.

Ludolter was born in 1967 the son of a policeman in Gottweig, Austria.

Doctors say his two-headed body was created when electrical waves failed to separate properly in the early stages of formation and grew together as they developed.

The two-headed oddity joined a carnival at the age of 14, singing to anyone his family is entering throughout Eastern Europe in the thousands of gawking crowds. He was an attraction until 1988 when he took up the guitar and began entertaining his audiences with love songs and rock tunes.

Each woman has chosen for the singer's attention at the hope that she will have to be the chosen one.

"I feel lucky to have been chosen," said Ludolter, whose right hand is named KARL. "All my life girls turned away from me in dis-

"While I'm famous, I'll find a wife," he said, and he was serious.

MAN SUES HIMSELF & WINS $122,500!

By SUSAN HANSON
Staff writer

Company owner Peter Maxwell was injured on the job, so he hired a lawyer — and sued himself!

Then, as head of the manufacturing firm where he worked, Maxwell paid himself a whopping $122,500 in compensation for his injuries and successfully battled the IRS in court so he didn't have to pay any taxes on the income.

"The court said I did nothing wrong," said Maxwell, 53, of Chino, Calif.

"I needed the compensation for my pain and distress and I got it."

The bizarre law case arose after Maxwell was injured in 1977. A conveyor belt he was working on at Life Products Inc. of Chino, Maxwell was also an employee of the firm and paid himself a $10,000 a year salary.

One day he got his sweater caught on the protruding belt of a machine used to mix urethane for manufacturing foam padding. The father of two was pulled into the machine and sustained severe injuries.

"My hand went into the rotating shaft and the machine pulled my arm in and broke it," Maxwell said. "I had a couple of operations they put a metal plate in my arm and I've suffered permanent loss of movement."

"I decided to seek restitution from the company."

"It was a separate corporation and I was an employee. I had been injured on the job and couldn't get workers' comp, so I went to a liability attorney and sued them."

Maxwell's lawyer contacted Life Products and announced his client's intention to sue.

As the owner of the company, Maxwell then hired another lawyer to defend his firm.

The two lawyers negotiated and agreed to a settlement — and Maxwell walked away with $122,500. Every-

Maxwell's case with the IRS got viral of Maxwell's bizarre legal sleight of hand.

Government tax agents launched an investigation.

Then they took the businessmen to court for claiming the compensation on his company's books as a business expense and for failing to pay income taxes on his $122,500 award.

Last month a federal judge ruled in Maxwell's favor and said the IRS was wrong saying that Maxwell had done nothing illegal.

Taxpayers have the right to decrease taxes or avoid them altogether by means which the law permits, said Judge Robert Rios in his decision.

After she calls her ex-hubby a 'moron' . . .

Socialite Lynn Peroff told friends her ex-husband was a "moron" during a gala black-tie affair — and almost wound up in the slammer!

The Boca Raton, Fla., woman had been ordered by a divorce court judge to keep her sharp tongue under control two years before when she won her divorce.

SIGMAUTN Lynn Peroff

"I don't like putting people in jail, but I have to promise you that if that's what I need to do to stop this, that's what I'll do," said Judge Walter Courter in 1988.

Ms. Peroff and Mr. Peroff had her ex-husband Myron to stop spending money about each other after a particularly vicious divorce battle. To stop all of jail they had to follow his orders.

Not offering one single solitary defense, slanderous or any other derogatory remarks toward the other to any one in the entire world at any time, either orally, in writing, by body language or any other form of communication."

Still, some things to start with, Myron, it wasn't her mouth,

Gossipy divorcee told: 'Shut up — or go to jail' that Mrs. Peroff put her foot in her mouth. At a highly public affair to raise money for a local theater she ate cake of black daisies to a 15-piece chocolate — and bad-mouthed Dr. Myron Peroff, a well-known plastic surgeon.

"She was quite loud and appeared intoxicated," said one witness, Patricia Brip, in a court document.

"I overheard her telling another couple that her ex-husband Myron used to masturbate before he operated and that he had so many outstanding lawsuits against him that she left him wife he still had something to still do."

"I heard her call him a moron."

It turned out Mrs. Brip was a patient of Dr. Peroff and told him about his ex-wife's words.

He filed a motion for contempt and Mrs. Peroff was jailed before the court. After a hearing, she was placed on three months probation fined $1,000 and ordered to serve 100 hours of community service. Mrs. Peroff denies the ever said anything bad about her former spouse.

How to stay younger as you grow older

Aging isn't automatic. Those bags and wrinkles, breakdowns and health problems can be delayed or avoided entirely, scientists say, just by taking proper care of yourself.

"Some things blamed on aging are not aging at all," cautions one expert, Dr. Carl Eisdorfer. "They are caused by smoking, drinking, lousy food habits and so on."

Other symptoms commonly associated with old age are the result of disease that can be minimized or prevented by living right, authorities say.

To put the least amount of wear and tear on your body, there are simple steps you can take through the years. Here they are, divided by age groups:

In your 20s

Start protecting your skin now to prevent aging later by using sun screens. Cut down on the hours you spend tanning. Protect your ears from loud noises. Turn down your radio, stay away from blaring speakers at discos and concerts.

Be sure to get regular dental checkups. Don't smoke and don't abuse drugs. Avoid casual sex — it can lead to infertility and disease. Use contraceptives.

Women should do regular breast examinations for lumps. If you don't know how to do it, order a pamphlet from the American Cancer Society. Get a regular Pap smear, too. If you get pregnant, avoid smoking and alcohol.

In your 30s

If you're a woman who's been on The Pill for years, this is a good time to talk with your doctor about switching to another form of contraception. It's also the time to begin mammograms with a baseline mammogram at about 30.

Men should examine their testicles monthly for lumps or enlargement. Testicular cancer can be cured early if caught early. Start watching your weight and begin a sensible, regular exercise program.

If you intend to exercise after a long period of inactivity, get a checkup before you begin. If you have a stressful life, set aside some time to relax every day.

In your 40s

If all women quit smoking if you haven't before. And since your body now requires fewer calories, cut down on your food intake too. This is the time of early menopause in the middle crisis.

Watch out for too much stress and get your blood pressure checked regularly.

Be sure to get plenty of rest. Get your eyes checked. You may need contact lenses or glasses. Get your hearing checked, and if it's found to check on your hearing and watch out for earwax build-up.

In your 50s

Age is making your digestion more sluggish. Eat more fiber in the form of fresh vegetables, fruits and grains. Avoid hearties and stay active.

For women, that is the decade of menopause.

Symptoms like hot flashes and painful menopause can be treated in consultation with your doctor. Hormone therapy should now be taken annually. Be sure to get enough calcium — at least 4,000 milligrams a day — either with supplements or through diet. Don't consume too much alcohol and don't drink alone.

In your 60s

You may have to begin wearing a hearing aid now. About 50 percent of people over 65 have lost at least one-third of their hearing. Start regularly eye checkups in your vision checkups and watch for symptoms of cataracts or glaucoma. Plan your retirement years to avoid boredom and depression.

See a doctor if you develop chronic symptoms: swollen legs, numb feet that don't hurt, tingling, cramps, dizziness, heartburn, sleep, pain, loss of appetite when walking, lower back pain, frequent thirst or urination, ringing in the ears.

In your 70s

Don't overmedicate yourself. Don't ask your doctor for medication you don't need and don't have old medicines. Protect your eyes (two nights with optical quality sunglasses and notice night driving). Remember to keep your eyes in good shape to get a complete picture of your surroundings in your drive.

Have your ears checked for wax build-up or other problems. Even if you love them for their sound, don't regularly and heavily use earplugs or earbuds and fresh vegetables in your diet.

Visit your dentist for a check of both of dentures, to tooth problems lead to malnutrition in many older people who can't chew.

Tell your doctor and family, even if you have to go to a psychiatrist.

Keep a log of the phone to help your memory. Jot down important dates on the wall or a calendar. Prevent falls by checking your home for hazards.

In your 80s

You may want to consider the wisdom of driving at this age. Maybe you could leave your car, but ask a friend or relative to drive you. Or buy a car with remote controls for rides in the car.

If you feel depressed, don't keep it to yourself. Share your feelings with friends, relatives or your doctor.

Take plenty of time to rest and to do things that you find a hobby that will keep you interested in it. Keep especially careful on nutrition and balanced meals. If you are unable to cook for yourself, there are several agencies that deliver meals to your door.

The letter was mistakenly sent to Kain, who had paid alimony to a former wife years before and for some reason had not been cleared from the county's records.

"When you see something like that, ingratiating with a race member and all, it's quite convincing," Marilyn told The NEWS. "It made me quite a shock. I expected officials to be apologetic about it, but they weren't."

A county spokesman said the case was a misdemeanor.

Evil Eddie Gilbert runs down rival Jerry Lawler — with a speeding car!

By PICKAX JACK O'BRIEN

Former world wrestling champ Jerry "The King" Lawler was nearly hushed to death when his archenemy, evil Eddie Gilbert, intentionally ran him down with a speeding car!

"Eddie tried to kill Jerry, pure and simple," said a shocked bad-guy grappler who asked to remain anonymous.

"I know they both hated each other with passion, but I never dreamed the feud would run as hot as this. Even if it would as well as it sure has to me," said the anonymous source.

Household names in the wrestling ring, Eddie and his brutal brother Big Boy had been suspended for the USWA championship for a vicious attack on the late Mr. McMahon.

The brothers beat Brown in a bloody only career match — the Triple Crown — which left the ring in a state of shock and horror.

Late in the Gilbert boys wanted to punish Lawler, a favorite of McMahon, Texas, arena. And when Jerry walked into the parking lot, Eddie sped with a who in his car — sending him to a hospital with a concussion and severe bruising.

Doctors told the injured wrestler he'd need at least three months to recuperate. But Lawler says he can't wait that long to get his revenge against the brotherly brothers.

"I have asked the commissioners to let the Gilberts suspend me for 30 days. My family on tour in the ring, Lawler told me. "I can't give time to go to them with my face that they'd go to me with their eyes."

FLASH RESULTS:

In Wrestling Coach, Dennis Rhodes used a Boston Elbow on the Brother. The Brother was changed. Rhodes threw him in the face with his head 15 feet and then the referee who had to call in other officials to help control the match. a wild fight! Bodyguard Virgil jumped into the ring to assist him. The Brother who had to fight both men in a desperate attempt to save his skin! When the referee finally held the two bad guys, Rhodes grabbed his belly and hit the Million Dollar Man right across his forehead, knocking him out! He then took out his backdrops and checked the moneybags and Virgil to each other before they were in the middle of the ring to hear the boss from the thousands of fans!

In All-American of W. The Healer Brothers beat The Midnight Express when Scott Steiner hit Bobby Eaton with the "Transcendence." After the match, manager Jim Cornette hit Scott with his cane in disgust, but Mike Stetler stopped Cornette in the face and he chased him back to the locker room! Ric Van Yea's son shot Mr. X with a submachine gun from the top rope and the crashing "Big Spin" which drove the match into the night!

GLIMPSE HOBOSCOPE

FOR WEEK OF

Mon., Oct. 8-Sat., Oct. 14

By Courtney Sophia Sabak

ARIES

Mar. 21-Apr. 19

The week ahead will be filled with wacky, kooky events that will make you bubble with delight.

Don't be surprised if it suddenly rains during a hike!

Good financial news hears your spirits early this week. Expect more happy news over the telephone.

You've had a long dry spell in the love department, but be prepared! Things are about to change for the better.

Relax. Happiness is assured. Be understanding.

TAURUS

Apr. 20-May 20

You need a break. And once you take it, you'll be relaxed and ready to rush in on anything that comes your way.

The period you've been stuck in will suddenly let up. Instead of just work, you'll have plenty of play.

Cashless will play a major part in your life this fall. You'll realize things falling into place as if you yourself were directing it all.

An unexpected visit from an old friend could materialize into a great romance.

GEMINI

May 21-June 20

Your daily routine has gotten too hectic and you're starting to suffer from the stress. Slow down and enjoy life again — and especially devote your attention to the loved ones you've been neglecting.

A new acquaintance will give you a new slant on this week that could make a big difference in your life.

Tread carefully where domestic matters are concerned. Make no big decisions for several days.

Lots of loving comes your way on the weekend.

CANCER

June 21-July 22

Stop chasing an impossible dream here, and come down to earth. There is still time to win back the love of the one who adores you from afar.

You are compatible with your life now, but be prepared for a few changes. Chances are you'll find what's going to happen. Don't be too hasty in judging the situation.

People are talking about you behind your back because they're envious that you've come to life. Don't worry. They're really complimenting your good sense.

LIBRA

Sept. 23-Oct. 22

Things in there — good things are just around the corner.

You'll at last see an end to that unlovely streak that has discouraged you lately.

Many affairs look especially promising and your health will be super for a long spell.

Distance is necessary this week. It's a good time to spend every extra moment with your sweetheart.

Watch for good news and weekend invitations. A phone call will introduce you to new friends.

SCORPIO

Oct. 23-Nov. 21

Solidity relationships with your family. A rift in the work relative will try to win you over for you but with some help from the rest of the relation, the situation will end there.

This is a good week to put your money matters in order. Don't budget a few extra coins toward something you've longed for that could give you a new outlook on the future.

A chance encounter with a heart-throb of your past could shake a love you thought was long lost.

If your birthday is this week . . .

Several exciting new prospects for advancement and prosperity will suddenly pop up your way.

Don't be greedy and try to cash in on all of them. Just one will provide financial security for the future.

Physical problems occupy you for a month or so then subside your life is shipshape.

Your first priority your year should be to let all the good and positive aspects of your life. The good lies in your life the taking.

A new acquaintance has you watching around starry-eyed. Lucky you!

Your Lucky Lottery Numbers

Readers all over the country are using Countess Lady's Lucky Lottery Numbers to help them win big bucks. You will find the Countess' Lucky Numbers right here each week to help you become a winner. To find your Lucky Numbers, simply look them up under your birth sign in the chart below. For extra luck, throw in your birthdate.

Aries	Mar. 21-Apr. 19	6, 16, 30, 36, 42	Libra	Sept. 23-Oct. 22	1, 10, 16, 30, 36, 42
Taurus	Apr. 20-May 20	5, 14, 30, 37, 38, 45	Scorpio	Oct. 23-Nov. 21	1, 10, 12, 36, 40, 47
Gemini	May 21-June 20	6, 16, 30, 36, 42	Sagittarius	Nov. 22-Dec. 21	15, 37, 39, 36, 30, 45
Cancer	June 21-July 22	5, 14, 36, 37, 38, 45	Capricorn	Dec. 22-Jan. 19	1, 14, 30, 37, 38, 45

LEO

July 23-Aug. 22

Your back is about to break in more than a dramatic moment and you should get ready to take advantage of your good fortune. Enter contests, take chances. You can't lose.

A friend or a friend in alliance and looking for a shoulder to cry on. You can help by just being a good listener.

An important household project has been neglected for the long and you are going to regret any further delays. Kick off the vacuum and get down to work.

VIRGO

Aug. 23-Sept. 22

Be wary of one who offers help you didn't ask for. Help on common sense to keep you out of trouble and steer clear of an offer that sounds too good to be true.

If you can keep others from celebrating for your efforts, hard work will pay off in unexpected ways in the very near future.

Keep your eyes in the gladiator now and you will be rewarded later. Good old-fashioned loving is yours for the taking in the week ahead, so enjoy every minute of it.

SAGITTARIUS

Nov. 23-Dec. 21

Now about indulging yourself for a change! Plan a day devoted to all your favorite pursuits and that time you've been harboring may disappear in a puff.

Distractions from all sides at week's beginning interfere with your daily routine, but by midweek, tasks are completed as they, and you can relax.

Patience and air-control will be needed to settle disputes with friends. Try to keep an open mind during discussion.

CAPRICORN

Dec. 22-Jan. 19

Be prepared for unique opportunities to come knocking on your door this week.

Your financial picture is good, but be sure you consider the long term before making decisions.

Friday is lucky, and an unexpected windfall seems heaven-sent — and it may be!

The weekend holds possibilities for romance as well as socializing. Consider repaying your obligations with special attention, or combine these entertaining.

AQUARIUS

Jan. 20-Feb. 18

All the beginning of the week, you feel yourself in the winner's circle, receiving good news which sends your spirits soaring.

What seems a minor crisis could create a major money crisis, so the weekend will get off to an ill start. Friends will insist and play hard with domesticity. But these clouds should blow away in a few days.

An old friend will present a wind-swept proposition. Listen carefully to this person, it could pay off.

PISCES

Feb. 19-Mar. 20

A smart move is going to add big bucks to your bank account, but it will take a good effort for you to make it happen.

Plan carefully and don't be afraid to invest.

Take a bow. During this period, it's perfect to have you have been deserving all your more time pays off in a big way, bringing you the satisfaction of success, and the intense love of the several you.

A celebration with loved ones is called for.

Man shoots boss over annual bonus — then kills himself!

An angry salesman seethed silently for weeks because he didn't think his annual bonus was big enough — and then he shot his boss and blew his own brains out.

"Obviously the friends at the bank had been nagging him the two or three weeks, but he showed no signs of being a violent person," said Police Lt. John Gambetti.

But the rage that cooked in him Gergel Petrichoff boiled over when he walked into the office of Reiko Sherk next.

THE WORK OF THE DEVIL? ➔

Old-timers swear they saw the hand of Satan twist this steeple

The majestic old steeple stood straight and tall for 50. Thence should the footsteps of years until the spine-chilling afternoon Satan came to town — and twisted the steeple tower like a twisted stick.

"My grandfather saw it with his own eyes and he said it was the most terrifying thing that ever happened to him," said preacher Peter Smith. "It was a moment of hell on Earth. That's what he told me."

Officially, church dignitaries attribute their names to the legend of Satan and the steeple.

But scores of God-fearing citizens in Chesham, England, swear it's the greatest truth.

"It was more than a hundred years ago and Granddad was a young man," said Smith, 71. "He was walking near them by the church, distant home. When a tremor came with it, it began blowing around the steeple. There was a howling, like a hurricane, and while a crowd of people watched, the Devil appeared right in the middle of it all again. He was the quietest thing any of them had ever seen — half man and half devil.

"He had a man's body and a goat's head, with horns, and black eyes looking as evil."

"And as the wind blew toward the steeple, that town began to creak and groan like it was being wrenched right off the top of the church."

"Then the big blue Devil dove and Lord! he was gone and that old devil, with all that evil in it, was twisted around like it was nothing."

But even the legend's most faithful believers can't explain why the Devil chose to perform his grotesque handiwork on St. Thomas church, a church built in the early 1600s.

"My Granddad saw the whole thing, too, and the only way I thought maybe he got scared and that I seem to do my best," said Bishop Walker, 45. "But now I think he meant it, I think he was just being angry."

Daughter sells couple's furniture — while they are away on vacation!

Gene and Carolyn Cayler went away on vacation and came back to an empty house — after their daughter auctioned off everything they owned for a few hundred dollars! Had the Helmsford, Iowa, couple say 28-year-old Kimberly Cayler did leave a few things behind? Her two kids, aged 4 and 15, mouthed:

"We haven't got a clue as to why she did it," said shock-stricken Gene Cayler, a meat packing plant supervisor. "She was living with us and working part time. She had no girlfriends that we knew of. We got most of our things back but we're still creating chaos. She was paid just $250 for over $6,000 worth of stuff."

According to police, Kimberly was 40 years old all as a direct vacation with the Caylers while the stagers home in Helmsford with the kids. On the way her parents said, Kimberly began calling several houses in the area until she found one that would buy the Caylers' furniture, she said.

The next day she dropped her baby off at a sister's house, and went back in her parents' to supervise the loading of all their possessions into an auction company's truck, according to police. Then she took the money and ran, they say.

"The Caylers' other daughter came by and saw everything she put in the front yard," said Det. Jack Dwyer of the Helmsford Police Department. "She called her parents at their vacation home in Wisconsin. Kimberly had a note to her home and said that was it. Have no choice I was in trouble. If you don't say it was me, you can collect on insurance. Love, Kimberly."

Cupid's love life was a write-off too

A shuffling young man not only couldn't make it go all the way, but he was a write-off too — but got dumped by his girlfriend, too.

Mike Mabe figured he was as good at computing love as him that he would use the business of writing them for other people.

But his latest down has been a new girl in his weeks with only five children.

When his own sweetheart gave him the best, the 19-year-old started from Windborough, England, wrote her a letter.

She didn't even reply.

The most incredible photo you'll ever see!

THIS WOMAN SURVIVED 10,000 VOLTS!

A 33-year-old woman miraculously survived a trip to the electric chair and we've got the pictures to prove it!

The dramatic photos clearly show Helen Sir crying before her scheduled execution and clawing the arms of the electric chair after an official turned on the juke.

Journalist Richard Simons passed as a priest and snatched a camera into the prison to get the pictures. He actually heard the woman scream. Let me go! Don't do it again! After she survived those 10,000 volt surges in the chair.

"They hit her with everything they had and still couldn't kill her," said Simons. From officials were beside themselves and after a brief discussion, they walked into the prison infirmary.

Her head, wrists and legs were badly burned and she obviously suffered some brain and nerve damage because her speech was slurred and she was trembling all over.

The authorities aren't talking, but sources tell me that officials consider the woman's survival to be an act of fate and will probably release her.

The chances of Simons getting inside the Singapore prison to take pictures — much less photograph the first electric chair execution in history — are almost beyond comprehension.

But his task was preceded by months of legwork in which he played the confidence of prison inmates who helped him get the photos without being detected.

"I took a personal interest in the Sir case during her trial because I was convinced that she had been framed," said Simons.

"She received a 30-year sentence but I learned that she had been taken to one of Singapore's notorious 'secret prisons' where illegal operations are carried out routinely. Even if I couldn't save Miss Sir, I wanted to document and expose what had been going on in these secret prisons. As it turned out she didn't live and I got the story and pictures.

It couldn't have turned out better for at that of us.

Singapore officially denies any knowledge of a kidnapping and says that illegal operations "have not and will never take place" on the island — a former British colony where English is widely spoken.

Regardless, at the denial, Simons's pictures prove that there has been at least one and possibly several execution attempts.
